UNLESS THE CONTEXT OTHERWISE REQUIRES, ALL REFERENCES IN THIS PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT TO "FIRST INDUSTRIAL" OR THE "COMPANY" REFER TO FIRST INDUSTRIAL REALTY TRUST, INC. AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES. UNLESS OTHERWISE INDICATED, ALL INFORMATION REGARDING THE COMPANY'S PROPERTIES RELATES TO PROPERTIES OWNED BY THE COMPANY AND IN SERVICE AS OF JUNE 30, 1996 (THE "PROPERTIES") AND THE INFORMATION CONTAINED IN THIS PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT ASSUMES THAT THE UNDERWRITERS' OVER-ALLOTMENT OPTION IS NOT EXERCISED. THIS PROSPECTUS SUPPLEMENT CONTAINS FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS WITHIN THE MEANING OF SECTION 27A OF THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED, AND SECTION 21E OF THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934, AS AMENDED. THE COMPANY'S ACTUAL RESULTS COULD DIFFER MATERIALLY FROM THOSE SET FORTH IN THE FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS. CERTAIN FACTORS THAT MIGHT CAUSE SUCH A DIFFERENCE ARE DISCUSSED UNDER THE CAPTION "RISK FACTORS" COMMENCING ON PAGE 3 OF THE ACCOMPANYING PROSPECTUS.

THE COMPANY

First Industrial Realty Trust, Inc. is a REIT which owns, manages, acquires and develops bulk warehouse and light industrial properties. Markets in which the Company currently operates include: Chicago, Illinois; Detroit, Michigan; Minneapolis/St. Paul, Minnesota; Atlanta, Georgia; Grand Rapids, Michigan; Central Pennsylvania; Indianapolis, Indiana; St. Louis, Missouri; Nashville, Tennessee; Cincinnati, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Dayton and Columbus, Ohio (such 14 markets, the "Operating Markets"). The Company owns 320 Properties containing an aggregate of approximately 28.3 million square feet of gross leasable area ("GLA") which, as of June 30, 1996, was approximately 96% leased to more than 860 tenants. First Industrial is a self-administered and fully integrated industrial real estate company, and is one of the largest publicly traded industrial property REITs in the United States (in terms of total market capitalization).

The Company believes that investment in industrial properties offers attractive returns and stable cash flow for the following reasons:

- The construction-on-demand nature of, and relatively short development cycle for, industrial properties allow developers to match supply more closely with prevailing market demand, resulting in greater stability in market occupancy levels and rental rates.
- Industrial properties are often net leased pursuant to leases that require tenants to pay many operating costs, and such leases frequently include built-in rental increases. This provides stability of cash flow and reduces the impact of inflation.
- Industrial properties are less management intensive than most other classes of real estate, thereby reducing both operating and administrative expenses.
- Despite changes in manufacturing and delivery processes, industrial property construction, design and layout have changed little over the last thirty years, thus extending the useful economic life of industrial buildings.
- Industrial properties generally require lower tenant improvement expenditures by the landlord to induce tenants to lease space than do other types of commercial property. Frequently, tenants make substantial improvements to the properties which increases the likelihood of the tenant renewing its lease.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

During 1996, the Company has grown principally by acquiring industrial properties as well as by improving the operating performance of its existing portfolio. Such improvement in operating performance is a result of the Company increasing minimum rents per square foot and aggressively controlling costs while maintaining high occupancies. The Company also has sought to increase the size of its portfolio by developing additional properties.

Significant developments relating to the Company in 1996 include:

ACQUISITIONS. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company acquired 54 Properties containing an aggregate of approximately 6.0 million square feet of GLA. The aggregate purchase price of these Properties was approximately $142.1 million, approximately $14.1 million of which was paid through the issuance of limited partnership interests ("Units") in the Company's subsidiary, First Industrial, L.P. (the "Operating Partnership"). Since June 30, 1996, the Company has acquired 12 properties containing an aggregate of 1.9 million square feet of GLA for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $47.8 million, approximately $1.3 million of which was paid through the issuance of Units in the Operating Partnership. Such 66 properties are expected to provide approximately an 11.6% unleveraged return on cost (computed as the weighted average property annual contractual net operating income from leases in place at the date of acquisition divided by total purchase price). In addition, certain of these acquisitions resulted in the Company entering the following four new markets: Indianapolis, Indiana and Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus, Ohio.

PENDING ACQUISITIONS. The Company has an active acquisition program through which it is continually engaged in identifying, negotiating and consummating portfolio and individual industrial property acquisitions. The Company's acquisition department typically is considering in excess of $500 million of property acquisition opportunities at any time. The Company has entered into contracts or reached understandings with respect to the purchase price (for aggregate consideration of approximately $62.8 million) and certain other material terms with sellers of 35 properties (with an aggregate of approximately 2.7 million square feet of GLA). If all of these properties are purchased, the Company anticipates funding approximately $35.7 million of the acquisition price of these properties with the proceeds of this Offering and the balance from the Acquisition Facility (as hereinafter defined). Because some of these possible acquisitions are not yet under contract and all are subject to completion of due diligence and a number of other contingencies, there can be no assurance that any of these acquisitions will be completed.

DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES. At June 30, 1996, the Company had under development two bulk warehouse properties and two light industrial properties which it anticipates placing in service in the fourth quarter of 1996 and which, in the aggregate, contain 732,604 square feet of GLA and are anticipated to cost approximately $18.4 million. In addition, since June 30, 1996, the Company has commenced the development of two bulk warehouse properties which will contain 313,165 square feet of GLA and are expected to cost approximately $12.6 million. These six developments, assuming anticipated leasing activity, are expected to provide approximately a 12.4% unleveraged return on cost (computed as the weighted average property annual contractual net operating income from leases with respect to such developments divided by estimated total development cost).

In order to take advantage of management's property development experience, the Company's inventory of developable land and increasing customer requests for build-to-suit projects, the Company recently created a new subsidiary to focus on development activities (the "Development Services Group"). The Development Services Group will actively seek development opportunities, continuing the Company's focus on build-to-suit projects which are pre-leased or substantially pre-leased prior to commencement of construction. The Company is currently evaluating a number of development projects (with an aggregate of approximately 2.3 million square feet of GLA). There can be no assurance that any such development will be completed. As of June 30, 1996, the Company had sufficient available land, substantially all of which is zoned for industrial use, to permit the development of approximately four million square feet of GLA.

PROPERTY MANAGEMENT. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company executed leases relating to in excess of 1.6 million feet of GLA at a weighted average first year rent of $3.99 per square foot, as compared to a weighted average final year rent of $3.82 per square foot for the same space under prior leases. The Company achieved this 4.5% increase in the weighted average annual rent per square foot for new leases signed while retaining in excess of 78% of existing tenants under expiring leases. Retention of existing tenants generally results in significantly lower capital expenditure, tenant improvement and leasing commission costs than would be the case when leasing space to a new tenant. The Company believes that opportunities exist to continue to increase rents as leases expire at the Properties, because average rents per square foot of GLA for the Company's existing leases are generally lower than the prevailing rents per square foot in the Operating Markets.

PROPERTY DISPOSITIONS. The Company continually evaluates local market conditions and property-related factors and will sell a property when it believes it is to the Company's advantage to do so. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company sold five properties for an aggregate price of approximately $12.1 million, recognizing a gain of approximately $4.3 million.

EQUITY OFFERING. On February 2, 1996, the Company completed a public offering (the "February Offering") of 5,175,000 shares of Common Stock, which resulted in net proceeds of approximately $106.3 million. Such net proceeds were used to repay indebtedness and to fund property acquisitions and developments during the first quarter of 1996.

DEBT FINANCING. In July 1996, the interest rate on the Company's $150 million floating rate collateralized revolving credit facility (the "Acquisition Facility"), under which the Company may borrow to finance the acquisition and development of additional properties and for other corporate purposes, including working capital, was reduced from the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") plus 2.00% to LIBOR plus 1.75%. The Acquisition Facility matures in June 1997. On September 30, 1996, the Company entered into a $40 million floating rate collateralized revolving credit agreement (the "1996 Acquisition Facility" and, together with the Acquisition Facility, the "Acquisition Facilities") under which the Company may borrow to finance the acquisition and development of additional properties and for other corporate purposes, including working capital. The 1996 Acquisition Facility bears interest at a rate equal to LIBOR plus 2.00% and matures in March 1997. The Company is currently negotiating with several lenders for a $200 million unsecured revolving credit facility to replace the Acquisition Facilities, although there can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in obtaining such a facility on acceptable terms.

THE COMPANY

First Industrial owns, manages, acquires and develops bulk warehouse and light industrial properties. Markets in which the Company currently operates include: Chicago, Illinois; Detroit, Michigan; Minneapolis/St. Paul, Minnesota; Atlanta, Georgia; Grand Rapids, Michigan; Central Pennsylvania; Indianapolis, Indiana; St. Louis, Missouri; Nashville, Tennessee; Cincinnati, Ohio; Des Moines, Iowa; Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Dayton and Columbus, Ohio. The Company owns 320 Properties containing an aggregate of approximately 28.3 million square feet of GLA which, as of June 30, 1996, was approximately 96% leased to more than 860 tenants. First Industrial is a self-administered and fully integrated industrial real estate company, and is one of the largest publicly traded industrial property REITs in the United States (in terms of total market capitalization). The Company's executive offices are located at 150 N. Wacker Drive, Suite 150, Chicago, Illinois 60606, and its telephone number is (312) 704-9000.

GROWTH STRATEGIES

First Industrial has implemented internal and external growth strategies which include the following elements:

INTERNAL GROWTH STRATEGIES

The Company seeks to generate internal growth by: (i) increasing revenues by renewing or releasing space subject to expiring leases at higher rental levels; (ii) increasing occupancy levels at properties where vacancies exist and maintaining occupancy elsewhere; (iii) controlling and minimizing operating expenses; and (iv) renovating existing properties.

During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company executed leases relating to in excess of 1.6 million square feet of GLA at a weighted average first year rent of $3.99 per square foot of GLA as compared to a weighted average final year rent of $3.82 per square foot for the same space under prior leases. The Company achieved this 4.5% increase in the weighted average annual rent per square foot of new leases signed while retaining in excess of 78% of existing tenants under expiring leases. Retention of existing tenants generally involves significantly lower capital expenditure, tenant improvement and leasing commission costs than would be the case when leasing space to a new tenant. The Company believes that opportunities exist to continue to increase rents as leases expire at the Properties, because average rents per square foot of GLA for the Company's existing leases are generally lower than the prevailing rents per square foot in the Operating Markets.

EXTERNAL GROWTH STRATEGIES

The Company seeks to grow externally through: (i) the acquisition of portfolios of industrial properties, industrial property businesses or individual properties which meet the Company's investment parameters; (ii) the development of properties, generally on a build-to-suit basis; and (iii) the expansion of its properties.

ACQUISITIONS. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company acquired 54 Properties containing an aggregate of approximately 6.0 million square feet of GLA. The aggregate purchase price of these Properties was approximately $142.1 million, approximately $14.1 million of which was paid through the issuance of Units in the Operating Partnership. Since June 30, 1996, the Company has acquired 12 properties containing an aggregate of 1.9 million square feet of GLA for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $47.8 million, approximately $1.3 million of which was paid through the issuance of Units in the Operating Partnership. Such 66 properties are expected to provide approximately an 11.6% unleveraged return on cost.

When evaluating potential acquisitions, the Company considers such factors as: (i) the geographic area and type of property; (ii) the location, construction quality, condition and design of the property;

(iii) the potential for capital appreciation of the property; (iv) the ability of the Company to improve the property's performance through renovation; (v) the terms of tenant leases, including the potential for rent increases; (vi) the potential for economic growth and the tax and regulatory environment of the area in which the property is located; (vii) the potential for expansion of the physical layout of the property and/or the number of sites; (viii) the occupancy and demand for tenants for properties of a similar type in the vicinity; and (ix) competition from existing properties and the potential for the construction of new properties in the area.

Between January 1 and June 30, 1996, the Company completed the following acquisitions:

PENDING ACQUISITIONS. The Company has an active acquisition program through which it is continually engaged in identifying, negotiating and consummating portfolio and individual industrial property acquisitions. The Company's acquisition department typically is considering in excess of $500 million of property acquisition opportunities at any time. The Company has entered into contracts or reached understandings with respect to the purchase price (for aggregate consideration of approximately $62.8 million) and certain other material terms with sellers of 35 properties (with an aggregate of approximately 2.7 million square feet of GLA). Because some of these possible acquisitions are not yet under contract and all are subject to completion of due diligence and a number of other contingencies, there can be no assurance that any of these acquisitions will be completed.

DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES. The Company develops properties, generally on a build-to-suit basis where such properties are pre-leased or substantially pre-leased prior to the commencement of construction. The pre-construction lease commitment reduces the development and leasing risks generally associated with the construction of new facilities. The Company generally will consider facilities that are designed as generic bulk distribution or light industrial buildings and are located in markets in which the Company's management has previous development experience. The Company's management team has significant experience in all phases of the development process, including site selection, zoning, design, pre-development leasing and construction management. In order to take advantage of this experience, and to take advantage of the Company's inventory of available land (sufficient as of June 30, 1996 to permit the development of approximately four million square feet of GLA) and increasing customer requests for build-to-suit projects, the Company recently formed the Development Services Group.

At June 30, 1996, the Company had under development two bulk warehouse properties and two light industrial properties which it anticipates placing in service in the fourth quarter of 1996 and which, in the aggregate, contain 732,604 square feet of GLA and are anticipated to cost approximately $18.4 million. In addition, since June 30, 1996, the Company has commenced the development of two bulk warehouse properties which will contain 313,165 square feet of GLA and are expected to cost approximately $12.6 million. In October 1996, one of these properties was placed in service. These six developments, assuming anticipated leasing activity, are expected to provide approximately a 12.4% unleveraged return on cost.

The Company is currently evaluating a number of development projects (with an aggregate of approximately 2.3 million square feet of GLA). There can be no assurance that any such development will be completed.

As of June 30, 1996, the Company was engaged in the following development activities:

PROPERTY DISPOSITIONS. When the Company believes that it is to the Company's advantage to do so, it will sell properties. In making a decision whether to sell a particular property, factors which would contribute to a decision to sell the property include: (1) the property is in a market where demand for similar properties is high; (2) investor interest in the type of property is high; (3) the tenant is not expected to make significant capital improvements to the property; (4) vacancy rates for similar properties are expected to increase in the relevant market; (5) income from the property is not expected to increase at an acceptable rate; and (6) the property's characteristics no longer meet the Company's portfolio requirements. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company sold five properties for an aggregate price of approximately $12.1 million, recognizing a gain of approximately $4.3 million.

BUSINESS STRATEGIES

The Company seeks to achieve its objectives by implementing the following seven strategies in connection with the operation of its business:

ORGANIZATION STRATEGY

The Company implements its decentralized property operations strategy through the use of experienced regional management teams and local property managers. Each operating region is headed by a senior regional director who is a senior executive officer of, and has an equity interest in, the Company. The Company provides acquisition and financing assistance, property management oversight and financial reporting functions from its headquarters in Chicago to support its regional operations. The Company believes the size of its portfolio enables it to realize operating efficiencies by spreading overhead over many properties and by negotiating quantity purchasing discounts.

MARKET CONCENTRATION STRATEGY

The Company invests in markets where it can achieve size and economies of scale. By focusing on specific markets, properties can be added without incurring appreciable increases in overhead. Based on the size of its portfolios in the Operating Markets, which average approximately 2.0 million square feet per market, and the experience of its senior regional directors, the Company believes that it has sufficient market presence and resources to compete effectively.

LEASING AND MARKETING STRATEGY

The Company has an operational management strategy designed to enhance tenant satisfaction and portfolio performance. The Company pursues an active leasing strategy, which includes aggressively marketing available space, renewing existing leases at higher rents per square foot and seeking leases which provide for the pass-through of property-related expenses to the tenant. The Company also has local and national marketing programs which focus on the business and brokerage communities and national tenants.

ACQUISITION STRATEGY

The primary focus of First Industrial's acquisition strategy is to acquire properties in the Operating Markets to capitalize on local market expertise and maximize operating effectiveness and efficiencies. As appropriate opportunities arise, the Company will acquire additional properties in other markets where it can achieve sufficient size and scale as well as hire top-quality management.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

Of the buildings currently in First Industrial's portfolio, 97 were developed by its management. The Company will continue to leverage the development capabilities of its management, many of whom are leading developers in their respective markets and formed the Development Services Group to focus on such activities.

DISPOSITION STRATEGY

The Company continually evaluates local market conditions and property-related factors and will sell a property when it believes it is to the Company's advantage to do so.

FINANCING STRATEGY

The Company believes that the size of its portfolio and the diversity of its buildings and tenants will allow it access to the public and private capital markets which are not generally available to smaller, less diversified property owners because of the portfolio size and diversity requirements of those markets. As of June 30, 1996, as adjusted for the Offering and assuming that proceeds of the Offering not used to repay indebtedness are used to acquire properties, the Company's ratio of debt to total market capitalization (I.E., total consolidated debt of the Company as a percentage of the aggregate market value of all outstanding shares of Common Stock (assuming a market price of $25.50 per share), assuming the exchange of all Units in the Operating Partnership for shares of Common Stock, plus the stated value of all outstanding shares of preferred stock plus total consolidated debt) would have been approximately 31.9% and for the six months ended June 30, 1996, the Company's coverage ratio (computed as total revenues minus property expenses and general administrative expenses divided by interest expense plus dividends on preferred stock) would have been 3.3:1. See "Risk Factors--Risks Associated with Debt Financing and Leverage--No Limitation on Debt" in the accompanying Prospectus.

Amounts repaid under the Acquisition Facilities may be reborrowed to fund the Company's continuing acquisition and development activities and for working capital purposes. Immediately following the Offering, no amounts will be outstanding under such facilities. The Company believes that it has available to it sources to finance on a long-term basis its unencumbered Properties and properties acquired in the future, and is currently negotiating with several lenders for a $200 million unsecured revolving credit facility to replace the Acquisition Facilities, although there can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in obtaining such a facility on acceptable terms.

PRICE RANGE OF COMMON STOCK AND DISTRIBUTIONS

The Company's Common Stock is traded on the NYSE under the symbol "FR." The distributions declared per share and the high and low reported last sale prices of shares of Common Stock are set forth below for the periods indicated.

Prior to the consummation of the Company's initial public offering (the "Initial Offering") in June 1994, the Company did not pay any distributions to its stockholders. Since the consummation of the Initial Offering, the Company has paid regular and uninterrupted distributions. The Company intends to continue to declare quarterly distributions on its Common Stock. No assurance, however, can be given as to the amounts or timing of future distributions, as such distributions are subject to the Company's earnings, financial condition, capital requirements and such other factors as the Company's Board of Directors deems relevant.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds to the Company from the sale of the shares of Common Stock offered hereby are expected to be approximately $119.9 million (approximately $138.0 million if the Underwriters' over-allotment option is exercised in full). The Company intends to use approximately $84.2 million of such net proceeds for the repayment of borrowings under the Acquisition Facilities which were incurred to finance acquisition and development activities and the balance of $35.7 million (approximately $53.8 million if the Underwriters' over-allotment option is exercised in full) to finance future acquisitions. As of October 21, 1996, the Acquisition Facilities bore interest at a weighted average interest rate of 7.47% and had a weighted average maturity of approximately eight months.

Pending such uses, the net proceeds may be invested in short-term income producing investments such as investment grade commercial paper, government and government agency securities, money market funds that invest in government securities, certificates of deposit, interest-bearing bank accounts and mortgage loan participations.

The following table sets forth the consolidated capitalization of the Company as of June 30, 1996 and as adjusted to reflect the Offering and the application of a portion of the net proceeds therefrom to repay indebtedness under the Acquisition Facilities.

THE PROPERTIES

GENERAL

The Company owns 320 Properties containing an aggregate of approximately 28.3 million square feet of GLA in 14 states, with a diverse base of more than 860 tenants. The Properties are generally located in business parks which have convenient access to interstate highways and rail and air transportation. The median age of the Properties is approximately ten years. The Company classifies its Properties into two industrial categories: bulk warehouse and light industrial.

The following table summarizes certain information with respect to the Properties, each of which is wholly owned by a subsidiary of the Company.

The Company's bulk warehouse properties are designed for bulk storage of materials and manufactured goods and have internal heights between 18 and 30 feet. Most of the Company's bulk warehouse properties have dock facilities for trucks as well as grade level loading for lighter vehicles and vans. The typical lease for a bulk warehouse property covers 50,000 square feet of GLA. Of the Properties, 149 are bulk warehouse facilities, containing an aggregate of approximately 18.8 million square feet of GLA (67% of the total GLA of the Properties).

The Company's light industrial properties are generally used for the design, assembly, packaging and distribution of goods and/or the provision of services and typically offer tenants internal heights of between 14 and 20 feet, have grade level loading and many provide dock facilities as well. The typical lease for a light industrial property covers 16,000 square feet of GLA. The Company's light industrial properties typically have less building depth and a greater office finish component than the Company's bulk warehouse properties. Of the Properties, 171 are light industrial facilities, containing an aggregate of approximately 9.5 million square feet of GLA (33% of the total GLA of the Properties).

THE OPERATING MARKETS

The Company's business is focused on industrial properties located in the Operating Markets which are in the central portion of the United States with a significant midwestern presence. According to publicly available reports prepared by CB Commercial Real Estate Group, Inc. ("CB Commercial"), the midwest region (where approximately 73% of the Properties (based on GLA) are located) has had the highest average occupancy rate for industrial properties of the major regions in the United States since 1991. The Operating Markets are generally recognized as important and established manufacturing bases and distribution centers. The Company believes that the Operating Markets are well-positioned for long-term growth because of the extensive roadway, rail and water transportation infrastructure which interconnects within the Company's operating region.

By operating similar buildings in targeted geographic regions, the Company has also been able to realize operating efficiencies. At the same time, presence in a number of markets has left the Company less exposed to market specific economic downturns. The Company currently expects that it will make further investments in the Operating Markets and will expand into other markets as investment opportunities it considers attractive become available.

The following table shows occupancy rates for industrial property in certain of the Operating Markets for the periods shown.

TENANT AND LEASE INFORMATION

The Company has a diverse base of more than 860 tenants engaged in a wide variety of businesses including manufacturing, retailing, wholesale trade, distribution and professional services. Most leases have an initial term of between three and six years and provide for periodic rental increases that are either fixed or based on changes in the Consumer Price Index. Industrial tenants typically have net or semi-net leases and pay as additional rent their percentage of the property's operating costs, including the costs of common area maintenance, property taxes and insurance. As of June 30, 1996 approximately 96% of the GLA of the Properties was leased, and no single tenant accounted for more than 2.3%, or group of related tenants accounted for more than 2.5%, of the Company's total revenues for the six months ended June 30, 1996, nor did any single tenant or group of related tenants occupy more than 2.9% of the Company's total GLA as of June 30, 1996.

TENANT IMPROVEMENTS AND LEASING COMMISSIONS

The following table summarizes the tenant improvement and leasing commission expenditures incurred in the renewal or re-leasing of previously occupied space for the periods shown. The costs associated with renewing leases with current tenants generally are significantly less than the costs associated with re-leasing space to new tenants.

- (1) Based on annualized information from July 1, 1994 to December 31, 1994, since information on an as adjusted basis is not available for the full year.
- (2) The Company believes that it incurs lower costs when it enters into a new lease (a "Category 1 Lease") (a) with a tenant that is renewing an existing lease, (b) with a tenant that is expanding its space either in the same or a different building owned by the Company or (c) covering space for which the Company negotiates the early termination of an existing lease or permits an existing lease to expire where a new tenant has already agreed to lease the space, than when it enters into a new lease (a "Category 2 Lease") for previously vacant space or space vacated by a tenant when the Company does not have a replacement tenant that has agreed to lease such space. During the six months ended June 30, 1996, approximately 85% of the space identified above was covered by Category 1 Leases and approximately 15% of such space was covered by Category 2 Leases. During the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1994, on an annualized basis, approximately 89% and 82%, respectively, of the space identified above was covered by Category 1 Leases and approximately 11% and 18%, respectively, of such space was covered by Category 2 Leases. Comparable information for all Properties for periods prior to the Initial Offering is not available.
